PLANS ARE MADE TO BEAUTIFY SHAFTER

Fort Shafter, already one of the most beautiful army posts in the United States, is to be beautified still more, and in a way that combines the practical and artistic.

Maj. John H. Wholley, commanding the post, has been planning improvements from a beauty standpoint for some time, and now, in conjunction with Gerrit P. Wilder, the plans are being drafted into definite form. Mr. Wilder's advice was asked, as he is a recognized expert on Hawaiian flora and is keenly alive to artistic effects as well, and he entered into the idea with great enthusiasm. Under his direction a detailed scheme of beautification has been worked out and yesterday he visited the post to go over the ground with Maj. Wholley and put the finishing touches on the plans.

The most important element in the plans, it is understood, is to be the planting of trees. Mr. Wilder's expert knowledge of trees and their growth in the islands came into good use, and he has suggested a five-row plan which will give the maximum of benefit and handsome effect. Eucalyptus, Hawaiian mahogany, poinciana and other trees are to be planted, and Mr. Wilder visited the government nursery yesterday afternoon to arrange for the supply.

FRUIT FLY MEETING WAS DECLARED OFF

"I had called a meeting of the trustees of the Chamber of Commerce for yesterday afternoon, to consider the fruit fly quarantine instructions from the Secretary of Agriculture," E. Faxon Bishop, president of the chamber, said this morning, "but after the meeting was called Dr. Mariatt's statement on the subject was published."

"Dr. Mariatt also called on me and assured me he had made recommendations to Secretary Wilson, leaving quarantine matters in statu quo, and therefore I thought it would be premature at this stage for the chamber to take any action, as it could not recommend anything better than the advice tendered to the Department of Agriculture by Dr. Mariatt. So I declared the meeting off."

POLITICAL NEWS AND NOTES

In response to a call from the Hawaiians of Wailua who want to hear Kuhio express himself as to his stand on territorial and Wailua politics, Prince Kuhio sallied out in an automobile this afternoon. He was accompanied by William H. Crawford, A. S. Mahaulu, J. C. Cohen, C. F. Chillingworth and Oscar Cox.

It is understood that there have been repeated demands from voters in various precincts that Kuhio designate city and county candidates whom he will support. Kuhio, however, is trying to avoid mixing in county politics, it is stated.

Before the Democratic county convention meets to consider and pass upon the qualification of candidates for various offices in the Legislature and county government, the Hawaiian leaders of the party will select some of the best and most available men from the business community to fill the office of supervisors, and, if possible, urge upon others to run for the Legislature.

One of the Hawaiian leaders said yesterday that he, for one, had already selected some of the well known business men, many of whom, he added, are leaders of the financial and law corporations in Honolulu. He stated most emphatically that if the business men, whom he selected, but whose names he refused to disclose, at least for the present, do not run, then he would advise his fellow Hawaiian Democrats to put in men whom they thought will do what is right and fair to the general public.

"The business men of Honolulu," said he, "have been wanting to have a Board of Supervisors composed of business men. Now if these men whom we have selected do not avail themselves of this opportunity, and decline to serve the people in the Board or in the Legislature, then we will put up men who will be acceptable to us, but who may not be satisfactory to the business community."

"In this connection, I would like to say that it is up to the business men to come through this time and accept the candidacy for different offices, rather than sit back and growl at those who are in office."

G. K. Kawehakui, the interpreter, said today that he would support good business men for supervisory positions, provided they have the aloha at heart for the poor as well as the rich people.

According to authentic report, some of the bankers and attorneys have been selected for the Legislative ticket. Their names, it is said, will be made known to the public in a few days. A committee has been appointed to wait upon these men and ascertain from them as to their views in the matter.

Having it forced upon him, he says, that four or five men cannot combat the will of twenty-eight, Supervisor Kruger has withdrawn from the fight in the Fourth of the Fourth. "I quit in the interest of harmony," he said this morning. Other withdrawals along the same line are Hookano, Robert Hair, Drake, Sayres, Curry, Walker.

"I am still in the race for supervisor," added Kruger.

Territorial Secretary E. A. Mott-Smith this morning sent advice by wireless to the supervisors on Maui, Kauai and Hawaii, informing them that tomorrow is the last day on which they may issue proclamations for elections of county officers in the respective counties. Although the county officials are elected on November 5, the date for the general election of Territorial officials, the proclamations for the county elections must be issued sixty days before that time, while the Territorial proclamation is issued only forty days prior to the election.

At a meeting of the Third of the Fourth last night, B. von Damm was elected chairman of the delegation without opposition. The abortive attempt to defeat his candidacy, it is said, was led by Ed Towse, who apparently had nothing to do in his own precinct of Kaimuki and was so enabled to participate in the business of other organizations.

It is probable that the Republican conventions will be held in the Orpheum theatre. The Territorial convention is to be held on Monday, September 16, and the county convention probably on Thursday, September 19. The Orpheum was used for the Republican convention last April and the Republican leaders found it satisfactory.

About half of the clerks in the county auditor's office spent most of their time yesterday morning in the corridors talking politics. In fact, they are playing politics so hard that the rest of the office found it hard to get any work done. It's a busy time for the office, and complaints are made that there's too much politics played in office hours.

WILL MEET AM-BASSADOR

of entertaining British Ambassador Bryce, President Bishop said this morning that, on consideration of the matter, he had concluded that, as Mr. Bryce was a diplomatic official, it would not be appropriate for a commercial organization to put itself forward on the occasion of his visit.

Naturally the distinguished visitor would receive attentions from the Governor, and there would be many to call on him if the opportunity offered, but as Mr. Bryce would be here for only six or eight hours, any formal ceremony at the hands of the chamber might well be deemed an intrusion. If the visitor were a consul, it would be different, as in that case attentions from the business community would be in strict propriety.

Again, Mr. Bishop suggested, if Mr. Bryce was to spend a number of days here, a general scheme of entertaining him on behalf of the city might be very appropriate. It was his aim as president to keep the chamber conservative, avoiding any appearance of butting into affairs official.

CAPT. SAM MAY GET HIS CLAIM

Captain Sam of the ill-fated schooner Mol Wahine, which was sunk off Motokai by the United States light-house tender Kukul, this morning called at Kuhio Headquarters for the purpose of meeting Prince Kuhio. Unfortunately for the veteran Captain, the Prince was not in, and he asked secretary Hakulo to set a time and place for a meeting with the Prince.

Captain Sam is in receipt of an official communication from Washington, according to report this morning, which it is said is a notification from the authorities in Washington that his claims, which Delegate Kuhio placed before the court of claims have been taken up.

Capt. Sam however, declined to discuss the matter.

The Governor's annual report, now nearly completed, will show that in the fiscal year ending June 30, 483 homesteads were taken up. Hawaiians taking more than fifty percent of these. This was the first year that the amendment to the land laws in the organic act was effective, opening up more land to settlement than ever before. Twenty-five percent of the homesteads were taken by Portuguese, fifteen percent by Americans, five percent by Japanese, and a few by Africans, French, German and British.

MATERIAL FOR MAUI RAILWAY

Five hundred tons of structural steel and iron as well as a large quantity of railway material to be used in the extension planned for the Kahului railway on Maui are to arrive in the islands in the American-Hawaiian freighter Alaskan, according to advices received at the local agency of the line.

The Alaskan is expected to reach the islands on or about September 21st. The vessel is understood to have a large general cargo for discharge at Honolulu.

The freighter, like other vessels operated in the American-Hawaiian service, is carrying much material for both the railway lines on Maui and Hawaii.

The Alaskan will be dispatched for Salina Cruz with the regular shipment of sugar, and also a large number of cases of preserved pineapples, destined for the East coast of the United States, the continent of Europe and the United Kingdom.

General Freight Agent C. F. Morse was notified today of the arrival of the freighter Mexican at Kahului. This vessel is scheduled to sail from Hilo on September 10th with 10,500 tons sugar, and approximately 5,000 cases preserved pineapples.

OAHU KEEPS UP ITS LEAD

Oahu again looms big on the stock sheet, in five sales between sessions which totaled 160 shares, all at the advanced price of 27.875 reached yesterday. Waiatus dropped a point in three sales reported, making 70 shares at 124. O. R. & L. is stationary at 141 for 8 shares reported.

The board was dull, Ewa declining a quarter-point to 31.25 for the trifles of two lots of 5 shares each. Olua shows a gain of half a point in a sale of 10 shares at 7.375.

Dividends were announced today by H. C. & S. Co. of 25c a share, or $100,000; Onomea, 60c a share, or $30,000; and Honoum, $1.50 a share, or $11,250; total, $141,250.

The J. A. Hopper house, the old residence building that has stood near the corner of King and Punchbowl streets for nearly forty years, was sold yesterday at public auction to Suroonaka, a Japanese building contractor, and will be demolished. The ground it occupies is now desired as a lawn in front of the new public library, and the old landmark will shortly disappear.

Japanese are stealing moss, rock from vacant lots in the Kaimuki district. One was caught today loading a dray with moss stone from a lot on Fifth avenue. A year or so ago a resident of that section made an example of a Japanese moss-rock thief. The man caught today had no number on his truck.

CLOTHING TALK

IF you were the customer which would you rather buy—'BENJAMIN'S' clothing or the ordinary make?

Compare the two point for point—the coat, for instance. Note the shoulders, the full back, and the nicelapel.

Look at the details of the finish. 'BENJAMIN'S' is a full shrunk garment, button holes are close stitched and stayed at both ends.

'BENJAMIN'S' clothes are today just what they always have been—the Standard of all Ready-to-Wear Clothing.

BOUGHT OPIUM FROM BRECKONS, PROVES BAD DEAL

Whether the permission of a government official to sell contraband goods places such sale outside the definition of fraud is the knotty problem that has been placed before Circuit Judge H. E. Cooper today for solution. The point has arisen in the jury trial of a suit for $114, brought by Goo Yee against Harry Rosenberg, to recover for three tons of opium which Rosenberg sold the Chinaman in the fall of 1910.

In the evidence given this morning it developed that Rosenberg, with whom Goo Yee had been doing considerable business in other lines, had obtained the three tons of opium from U. S. District Attorney R. W. Breckons for the definite purpose of selling them to Goo Yee. After the sale had taken place, the Chinaman was "shadowed" and soon the contraband was law and returned to Breckons. It then developed that Breckons held both the $114 and the three tons of opium. Breckons testifies that Rosenberg had turned the money over to him.

Goo Yee testified that he noticed the absence of the tins of the Federal government stamp, which would have made them legal merchandise, and that he called Rosenberg's attention to this feature. He said Rosenberg pointed out some writing on the tins, which read "E. R. S. 3-1909," and said that Rosenberg assured him that they were as good as government stamps because they were the

WIRELESS CHESS GAME TO START SATURDAY NIGHT

The chess tournament by wireless between the local Y. M. C. A. and the Mechanics Institute chess club of San Francisco will be in full swing Saturday night in case the first move of the latter is received by mail on tomorrow's boat. The same letter will notify the Y. M. C. A. when its first move will be expected. This move will be sent by wireless, and all during the night the two contestants will play. A local member will be stationed at the wireless office, and as soon as a move is made by the Y. M. C. A. it will be sent to him by messenger, and he will give it to the operator, and he will also receive the moves from the other end and dispatch them to the building. A bulletin in the form of a chess board will be placed outside the Y. M. C. A. so that it can be seen at a glance just how the contestants stand.

A committee of local chess enthusiasts will meet at the Y. M. C. A. tonight to discuss the method of play and the plan of defense.

marks made by Customs Collector E. R. Stackable, and that Rosenberg added that such tins usually contained better quality of opium than those having the government stamp. The plaintiff, represented by Attorney Lightfoot, maintains that the sale was made fraudulently, that Goo Yee did not know he was buying contraband and that he is therefore entitled to the return of his money.
